

Expedited Food and Beverage Shipments from Coast to Coast

Food can't wait, and we know it. We understand that a reliable shipping solution is critical to keeping your business moving forward. That's why Union Pacific created the Food Train—a premium service 100% dedicated to shipping food and beverage products safely and on time.

Once your product is ready to ship, it travels on a dedicated train, bypassing rail classification yards, allowing for smoother transit to better protect your shipment. With reliable shipping schedules, we ensure you reach the right customers at the right time—all at a budget-friendly cost.

No matter how you ship your products today, whether by rail, by truck or a combination of the two, our dedicated team of experts is focused on providing innovative transportation solutions to meet your unique shipping needs.

Union Pacific's Food Train provides direct service from California and the Pacific Northwest to Chicago and the Northeast, with expanded offerings coming soon.

When you ship on Union Pacific's Food Train, you get:

- Access to more food shippers than any other railroad.
- Expedited service from California and the Pacific Northwest to the Northeast via CSX Transportation.
- Drop-off location in the Chicago area, enabling more direct access to the Midwest.
- Direct service that bypasses classification yards—saving time.
- Smoother transit and less handling to better protect cargo.
- Better asset utilization through access to Union Pacific's refrigerated, insulated and standard boxcar fleets.
- Premium, value-added service options, such as transit monitoring, shipment management and problem resolution.

Reach Key Markets in Chicago and the Northeast

We provide consistent, reliable, door-to-door delivery in as little as 7 days coast to coast.

No rail? No problem.
Our team of experts can customize a shipping solution to meet your unique shipping needs.
