

Faster Intermodal Service between the Pacific Northwest and Texas

Effective February 20, 2017

Union Pacific now offers improved transit times between the Pacific Northwest and Texas — competitive with trucking options and up to two days faster than current intermodal schedules. This reliable service is available five days per week between Portland (Brooklyn) or Tacoma (Tacsim) and Dallas (Mesquite), allowing you to reach markets faster.

Why Union Pacific?

Ship When You Need to Ship

We ensure you always have capacity available with access to EMP and UMAX equipment, the largest dedicated fleets of rail-provided containers. Wholesale door-to-door options are also available via Streamline.

Ship with Peace of Mind

We provide complete visibility of your shipments with Web-based interline trace and reporting tools.

Stick to Your Schedule

We offer consistent service with truck-competitive reliability available five days per week, southbound and northbound.

Rely on Us

With Union Pacific, you have access to a dedicated team of shipping experts available 24/7.

February 2017

Contact your Union Pacific Railroad sales representative for more information.

www.up.com/intermodal

BUILDING AMERICA®

